

IF YOU want to learn how much we are moved by prejudice and irritation and how little by genuine will power just consider the portrait of a man who has finally gotten around to studying the matter of buying himself a new watch.

He has been going around with the same old pocket-watch for 25 years. Absolutely nothing wrong with it, you know; yet styles change and it's the fashion nowadays for men to wear wrist-watches. But against wrist-watches he has remained adamant. Had one in World War I — and the manufacturer ought to have been sued.

There were a lot of things wrong with those early wrist-watches—many wouldn't run, and those that did kept fantastic time.

But the man of whom I write knows that today's jewelry job is an improved product. The old prejudice lingers — yet a counter-irritation is building up, driving him closer to a decision. Pocket-watches run down unnoticed. Their maneuverability depends on a chain—and in this day of wrist-watches a reliable chain is hard to come by. Maybe this man, halted by prejudice, will finally be moved by irritation.

LOOKED at the row of Erle Stanley Gardner mysteries on the newsstand counter and thought I saw a little I hadn't read. Or had I?

And right then I thought of something the smart boys ought to be able to use. An aid to Tived Readers of Murder Mysteries.

It goes like this: Each Mystery would be given a coded perforation on the cover, like the perforated cards used by the government and industry in filing social security accounts. Each customer of the newsstand would be given a blank card, and every time he bought a Mystery that particular book's code would be cut into the card.

Now I approach the newsstand with confidence. I haul out my card, compare it with the perforations on the doubtful title — and see daylight through every hole. No dice — that one I've read.

ILL HAVE TO credit the radio with one of the best descriptive phrases of the year.

The Dixieland band announcer from Miami Beach was saying you don't have to have television to get a complete and accurate picture of the world around you — it can be described with words alone. And then he said:

"Look at our friend Joe here in the band, Joe's got ears. I'll tell you about Joe's ears — they look like the rear view of a taxicab with the doors open."

Wool Strike to Hit Family Pocketbook

Boston, March 3 — (AP) — There's a wool strike on which won't strip you of a new suit for the coming Easter parade but it raises a question which may finally reach to your pocketbook.

The question is: Is it a strike for higher pay for 70,000 CIO workers in a dozen states or is it a so-called "strike against the government."

The two-week-old strike has closed 160 mills and idled about half of the nation's workers in the woolen and worsted industry.

Involved are some of the huge companies like American Woolen company, as well as small mills from Maine to Georgia, and the CIO Textile Workers Union of America. The union struck Feb. 16 to enforce a demand for a 15-cent-an-hour pay raise. The TWUA refused American Woolen's offer of five cents an hour and reported average wages are $1.42 an hour.

Also affected are some non-union mills whose owners have sought court injunctions against CIO pickets. So far picketing has been peaceful.

What about your Easter suit? You don't have to worry about any shortage say the manufacturers. A big Chicago suit house explained that the major firms buy wool at least a year ahead of time and are well-stocked. A Boston trade spokesman added that your Easter suit "was a last August production."

Union men say if the outcome of the strike is a lift in price ceilings it will lift the price you will have to pay for clothes.

Negro Citizens to See Peidt Show

A good section has been reserved for the negro citizens of Hope who wish to attend the Horace Heidt Show, Thursday, March 15, at the Coliseum. Tickets will go on sale at Hicks Funeral Home Tuesday, March 6.

Family Takes Aged Negro

The aged negro who suffered a "stroke" in downtown Hope yesterday was turned over to some relatives taken to Washington. City Police announced today. Officers described his condition as "better."

Plenty of Lying Says Fulbright of RFC Testimony

By G. MILTON KELLY

Washington, March 3 — (AP) — "I have never heard so much lying in my life." That was Senator Fulbright's assessment today of the testimony in a senate probe of RFC lending policies.

The Arkansas Democrat who heads the investigating subcommittee declined to specify which statements he considered false among the welter of charges and denials by a score of witnesses. But he said scrutiny of the record might reveal the need for a "general investigation of the moral level of our government."

The committee has charged that political influence and personal pressure tipped the scales of the reconstruction finance corporation (RFC) consideration of several multi-million dollar loans.

Fulbright told reporters today that although the record of the committee hearing is "full of perjury," it has "shown conclusively" that RFC yielded improperly to outside pressures.

It also demonstrated that the senate banking subcommittee conducting the inquiry "did not make an asinine report." Fulbright added. This was an allusion to President Truman's news conference description of a report the committee filed with the senate last month.

Mr. Truman hung the asinine tag on the report which linked White House aide Donald Dawson and E. Merl Young, husband of a White House stenographer, with a group the committee accused of wielding improper influence over RFC.

Fulbright said the committee has now "served its purpose" and should wind up its inquiry by next Friday. "I don't propose to spend the rest of my life on this cockeyed thing," he added.

Despite pressure from some committee members for wider exploration of some of the testimony received, the chairman insisted further investigations were outside the authorized scope of the group and should be handled by some other appropriate committee.

Among other things, Fulbright said, the inquiry has uncovered evidence of income tax practices which senate or house taxation committees should examine. Some of these, he said, amount to "the jobbing of tax exemptions."

1068 Dogs Are Vaccinated in Hempstead

To date 1,068 dogs have been vaccinated for rabies at 20 community centers by Dr. Herbert Rogers, DVM, reported Oliver L. Adams, county agent today. This is a voluntary health program for the aid and protection of people and livestock from rabies.

The present schedule made on the basis of request from community leaders for the completion of coverage of the county is as follows:

Two Negroes Are Caught in Act of Burglary

Two local negroes were arrested by city police last night and charged with petty larceny when they were caught coming out of Wiley's Wrecking Yard, west on Highway 67, with two tires, two radiators and a battery.

They were listed as George Morrison and Ernest L. Polindexter, both Hope residents.

Officers were making a routine patrol and caught the negroes red-handed.

Citizens Bank to Install a Night Depository

R. M. LaGrone, Jr., president of Citizens National Bank, today announced plans to install a night depository.

This will allow the public to deposit large sums of money after banking hours and will eliminate many precautions taken at public events, shows, etc., held when the bank is closed.

Very few banks outside of larger cities offer this service and it will be a convenience as well as protection for business establishments and people that handle large sums of money after banking hours, Mr. LaGrone said.

Midwest Is Staggered by Storms

By The Associated Press

Midwest areas staggered today from snow and ice storms and gale-like winds as winter drove on relentlessly.

Hip-deep snow covered areas in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa. A blast of sub-zero cold moved into the northern plains and headed for the north central storm belt.

Some towns were isolated. About 1,000 persons were stranded overnight in Glenwood, in west central Minnesota. Steel pelted some areas and winds ranged from 20 to 40 miles an hour. Communications lines were disrupted.

As the wintry elements battered the winter-weary midwest, Dixie was having a touch of summer. Temperatures climbed into the 80's over the gulf states, hitting record high marks for the date in many cities.

Snow plows were virtually useless in parts of Minnesota. Strong winds whipped the freshly falling snow back onto the highways as quickly as they were cleared.

Although the snowfall was diminishing in most areas, the strong winds blew snow into huge drifts. Visibility in some sections was reported "zero-zero."

Heaviest snow today was over most of Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan. The storm was moving into the Lake Superior region and federal weather bureau officials expected it to end during the day. Temperatures ranged from 15 to 20 above zero. Falls measured 15 inches at Sioux Falls, S. C., putting 24 inches on the ground. There were 41 inches of snow on the ground at Calumet, Mich., including a new fall of five inches, and Land O'Laacs, Wis., plowed through snow up to a depth of 31 inches.

Truman Settles Down to Vacationing

Key West, Fla., March 3 — (AP) — A cheerful gray-haired man in a loud sports shirt and light blue summer trousers took over this naval submarine station today.

Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, was back in his favorite winter vacation spot for his ninth visit.

He got a friendly welcome from the citizens of Key West as he rode through Duval and other business streets en route to his quarters from the Boca Chica airport where he flew in from Washington yesterday.

Mr. Truman lost no time getting into light blue slacks and a gray, tail-out sports shirt with a huge figure of a fish.

And he demanded his official pass to be sure he could get in and out of the tightly-guarded entrance gate to the submarine station.

It was produced immediately. Mr. Truman then announced he will go swimming today at the enlisted men's beach and lie on the sands for his first sunbath here since his visit last March.

The submarine station was more tightly-guarded than his eight previous visits. Official passes of newspapermen were carefully inspected. The secret service detail, increased since the attempted assassination at the Blair House, was the heaviest ever seen here.

Boca Chica airport, where Mr. Truman landed in the Independence yesterday, was heavily-guarded. So were the streets through which the presidential procession passed through crowded streets of waving, cheering residents.

The President is expected to undertake a heavy work schedule next week after a weekend of relaxation.

His associates said he will ponder problems of grave import, both domestic and international.

Caddo Machine Works Moves Into the SPG

The Caddo Machine Works has moved into the Southwestern Proving Ground industrial area and will get into production by April 1.

The new industry is currently reconditioning army trucks and truck bodies and will employ from 25 to 30 workers, Bob Jones, shop superintendent said today.

Welders, sand blasters, body, sheet metal and some laborers are wanted by the company which is in process of setting up its machinery.

J. H. Cordell, of Shreveport and co-owner of the shop, is in charge of personnel. The new firm has purchased building No. 35, in the SPG.

Pearson Files Suit Against McCarthy

Washington, March 3 — (AP) — Drew Pearson, newspaper columnist and radio commentator, has sued Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), a Washington newspaper and at least seven other persons for damages totalling $5,100,000.

The suit filed in U. S. District court yesterday asked $600,000 damages from McCarthy on two counts — one alleging a physical attack on Pearson and the other based upon alleged publication by McCarthy of a senate speech.

In the speech, Pearson's suit said, McCarthy made a "false" attack upon (Pearson's) character, veracity, morality, competence and patriotism.

McCarthy, the Washington Times Herald, News paper Columnist Westbrook Pegler and radio commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr., were among those named in the Pearson's third count. It asks $3,000,000.

Pearson said in his third count that the defendants had caused him "actual damage of $1,000,000," because they made "similar statements about the same time, and contrived, pursuant to a pre-conceived plan and on or about December 12, 1950, to hold plaintiff up to public scorn and ridicule."

McCarthy was interviewed by telephone at the Bethesda Naval Medical center near Washington, where he is being treated for a sinus ailment. He commented, "the truth is a perfect defense against any level action," and said, "I don't think I'll have any trouble proving to any jury that everything I said was the truth."

Pearson asked $250,000 damages from McCarthy for what he called a physical attack upon him at the Sulgrave club here, where Pearson and McCarthy were dinner guests last Dec. 12.

One Little Prayer Makes Up for the Many Commercials Heard on Trolley Radios

By TED CREAUGH

(For Hal Boyle)

Washington, March 3 — (AP) — It starts you the first time you hear it. You're riding along in a bus or trolley, maybe reading your paper or looking out the window, not paying much attention to the thin radio music in the background.

Then a voice speaks: "Every day at 12 noon, we invite all of you to join with our station as we offer — each of us for our own way — a silent prayer for the men who are fighting overseas... a prayer for their divine protection and guidance."

"So let us all now unite in silent prayer... and in the hope for eventual and everlasting peace. Will you bow your heads and join us?"

Some of the passengers do bow their heads. Others stare straight ahead. You wonder if they are praying or thinking. A few look embarrassed. Now and then someone produces a rosary. Conversation gives way to silence — the silence of prayer.

From the loudspeaker, quiet organ music fills the silence. Then, in 20 seconds, the voice again: "We hope you will join with us tomorrow at the same time as we again offer our silent prayer for the men who are fighting overseas... and for the fulfillment of our hope for lasting peace."

"It's all over now. There is a general clearing of throats, a mounting buzz of renewed conversation. But you leave your trolley or bus with a feeling that you've seen something new under the sun — a spiritual crack in the hard shell of a worldly and strife-ridden capital."

Sovine's Holsum Bread Show Packs City Hall

Maybe it was the old gimmick of getting something for a box-top, a bottle-cap, or a bread-wrapper.

Or maybe it was just the magic of MGM Records' hillbilly star Red Sovine.

But the fact is Hope's city hall auditorium was packed with the largest crowd in years last night when Sovine played here under the auspices of Holsum Bread. Admission was by a wrapper from a loaf of Holsum Bread — and the cars were stacked up for two blocks in every direction from the municipal building.

Sales Manager Didier, Cotton Baking company, Shreveport, representing Holsum Bread, said it was astounding — and it was.

Army Has No Plan for Proving Ground Hope Men Report

The government has no plan for any of the Southwestern Proving Ground facilities so far as could be learned Vincent Foster and George Peck said today on returning from Washington.

The war department's program is not far enough advanced to tell whether the government will ever be interested in the SPG, including the airport, Mr. Foster said.

The Hope men went to Washington last week to try to learn whether the war department is considering using any of the Proving Ground facilities. Their report spikes numerous rumors which have been making the rounds in Hope since the war in Korea started.

Chinese Fire Slows Progress of Marines

Tokyo, March 3 — (AP) — American Marines pushed north of capital Hoengsong today on the Korean front but heavy Chinese fire slowed their progress.

In three days the bludgeoning have ground ahead four miles across the jagged hills that rise to 1,500 feet around Hoengsong.

Chinese mortar fire slowed marine column two and one miles northeast of the road. Small arms and automatic weapons fire poured from mountain foxholes barred the marine column striking northwest from the captured town.

There were signs that the nose were putting in reinforcements in a gamble to save last stands guarding road along north and southwest Hoengsong.

The marine column on the flank pushed past the burned remains of a United Nations convoy that had been ambushed nearly three weeks ago when Chinese and Korean Reds forced their massive central front to back.

The convoy was strung out nearly two miles of highway. United Nations and enemy scattered everywhere along line were grim reminders of fierceness of the fight. Some of the GI's were dead in their trucks at the first shots.

In the Pangnim sector east Hoengsong, American Seventh Division infantrymen with flame-throwers repulsed a Korean counter-attack.

The Reds struck about noon miles northwest of Hoengsong, charging though an intense lory shelling. They swept along where the American dug in.

The doughboys turned firing small arms fire on the advancing Communists. Many but others of the 500 men swept forward.

Col. William (Buffalo) Bill ordered a battalion of dough down the slope with fixed nets. The Reds broke and American artillery poured rounds on a Communist force 3,000 or more troops dug in north of the Seventh Division position.

A tank-led patrol smashed a roadblock and ranged up a hillside on Chinggyong highway to the one and a half miles of the line smashed town.

To the west, Second Division troops cleared Red from a hilly area, three miles northeast of Hanhung.

Record School Budget Before Legislature

Little Rock, March 3 — (AP) — record school budget has proposed in the Arkansas legislature.

The state education department yesterday requested a $100 million appropriation for the next years in a bill (SB450) introduced in the senate.

The bill was submitted legislature was preparing journal for its last week-end. The general assembly ends next Thursday. No bill introduced after noon Tuesday.

Thursday the senate passed a bill to give the school system $24,000,000 additional by increasing the state sales tax to three percent.

The house, which also passed the bill, turned it over to the senate.

It also rejected a measure (SB451) to place state bonds on the ballot for the purpose of raising money for the state.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The last journey of Jesus to Jerusalem was made from "the region beyond Jordan," known as Perea, and the Gospel of Mark (also the Gospel of Matthew from the 10th chapter) tells of the coming of Jesus into Judea, toward the final scenes of the Crucifixion
and the Resurrection.

A study of the Gospels reveals
how very great a part of the story of the life of Jesus deals with the incidents and conversations during that last journey.

The earlier parts of the Gospel story suggest a somewhat leisurely ministry as Jesus disciples, visit
the villages, accept hospitality,
mingles with the thronging people telling the stories that we call the parables.

But now event follows event,
incident follows incident, the impact of everything is more intense,
and the conversations, as recorded by John enter into the very depths of intimacy and mystical relationships of Father, Son, and disciples
in the fellowship of love.

In the very last week, the Master entered Jerusalem and the Temple. Huge crowds were on hand, sensing the climax of all that he was, said, and did, and aware that "His hour had come."

My thought now is of that Holy City to which the Master approached. What deep emotions it must surely quicken in the soul of anyone who, considering with any realism its long history of tragedy and glory! Repeatedly besieged, destroyed, rebuilt, dominated at various times by Jewish, Byzantine,
Arab, Crusader, and modern Moorish occupation, it is still the scene of political, racial, and religious division and strife.

Yet beneath all Jerusalem's tragedy, past and present, is an unextinguishable glory. Hours and scenes of triumph stand above all tragedies of ravage, cruelty, injustice and defeat. And above all are the records of love and devotion, unsurpassed in all the experience of man.

It was an exile in Babylon, who looked to that far-off city, and cried: "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem,"

'Mr. Roberts'
on L. R. Stage
March 5-6

Tod Andrews

Arkansas theatregoers will be among the first to see the New York Company of the Broadway laugh champion, "Mr. Roberts", which brings its elaborate production and large cast to the Robinson Auditorium for two nights March 5 and 6 with a matinee on the 6th.

Tod Andrews is the star of the show, which included such sparkling stage names as Robert Ross, Rusty Lane and Lawrence Glyden
with 25 others aboard the U.S. Navy cargo-carrying vessel which will be reproduced in spectacular fashion on the Little Rock stage.

The title character is a young lieutenant, the cargo officer on the ship called "This Old Bucket" who is intelligent, human and humane,
and who understands the bottled-up energies of the men under him.
But they are held in check by a mild-mannered captain, a man who is out for advancement and is bent on getting it at the expense of his men and through the good record
of his cargo officer.

"Mr. Roberts" is a funny but hard-boiled show. It is played in the author's idiom and it strives for authentic effect. Walter Winchell called it "The funniest show
in 10 years", and there is a fair chance the folks hereabouts will add to that "or over".

This is a Metropolitan Attraction
presentation.

CIO Says Cost
of Living
Index Failure

Washington, March 3 (AP)—The CIO charged today that the government's new-type cost-of-living index which may be used to determine immediate pay boosts
for more than 1,000,000 workers, does not reflect the actual rise in prices.

The pay increases—four or five cents per hour—are allowable
under a formula adopted last Tuesday by Wage Stabilizer Eric Johnston and amended by him to permit cost-of-living adjustments agreed to by management and labor before the Jan. 25 wage freeze.

But the question is, will they be based on the new-type index or the old-type. It might make a cent or so difference.

The 600,000 employees of the auto industry will share the bonanza. Some of them—at Ford and Chrysler—would have been denied the full amount of adjustment had Johnston not acted. The cost-of-living increase plus other raises
they have received in the past year
would have pushed through the 10 per cent pay raise ceiling in the unamended wage stabilization order.

The pay adjustments are made every three months, at the rate of one cent an hour up or down with every rise or fall of 1.14 points in the bureau of labor statistics consumers' price index.

The bureau, acting to gear its measurement of living costs to changing buying habits, yesterday
put out its first new-type monthly index. It contained 25 new items and cut down the importance of food in the family budget of a moderate income family.

This drew the fire of the CIO, which argued that food prices have zoomed since the Korean fighting began last June, and this was no time to begin a new kind of index. At least 3,700,000 workers
now have contracts calling for periodic adjustments up or down as the index changes.

One million railroad workers were included Thursday when they signed a new agreement for non-op-

lem, let my right hand forget her cunning. . . let my tongue forget to the roof of my mouth: If I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy." There is no patriotism to compare with the patriotism of the saint.

It was the master himself who poured out the fullness of that love and devotion for the city whose tragedy was so linked with His own. "And when He was come near, He beheld the city, and wept
over it." "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killest the prophets and stonest them that are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!"

Was ever love and compassion deeper than that? And the world, like Jerusalem, still refuses that divine appeal, going its own way
in violence and strife.

are giving them a raw deal and dragging them into disputes with which they have nothing to do.

There is not a day that there does not come to this column pitiful and desperate letters from helpless youngsters who are being ground to pieces between the upper and nether millstones of their parents'
tempers. "What can we do to stop our parents from quarreling?" they
ask. "They never say a pleasant word to each. It is always just fighting over everything and saying mean hateful things to each other and accusing each other of doing terrible things. There is never any peace and quiet."

"We love both our mother and father and mother quarreling all the don't want to take sides against either. We have a nice home and we could be so happy if only Father and Mother didn't fight all the time.
And sometimes a boy or girl will add a pathetic postscript saying:
"I have got so nervous over my father and mother quarrelling all the time that I can't keep my mind on my books any more and am falling behind in my studies." And people with children think their quarrels with their husbands and wives are their own personal affairs!"

Could Tell Parents Off
What these children whom the wise Judge appointed to referee
their parents' fights said to them,
I do not know, but I can imagine them saying: "Gee mon and pop have a heart. You brought us into the world without our asking for it and it is up to you to give us a fair chance to grow up into healthy men and women, and we can't do that if we have to live in an atmosphere of hate that poisons us, and have our nerves wrecked by being "a perpetual woe. How can we believe truth and loyalty and high ideals and fine principles when we have ourselves because things are never jolly and pleasant at their house as they are at Tom's and Sally's, and they are thinking that their parents

Isn't the Fairy Prince you thought you were marrying, but he is a pretty good scout after all, and he works mighty hard to keep us all so don't like about him. Quit nagging him about subjects you are like a red flag to a bull. We can't remember a single quarrel that you and couldn't have sidestepped if you had just gone out of the way to

out to meet it.

"Why don't you use a little of the salesmanship on Mom, Dad, that you do on your customers? Why don't you use the salespreacher a little instead of the hammer so much? Mom would just purr under your hand if you would stroke her fur the right way."

"There isn't any sense in you and Mom quarreling the way you do. So we, your children, forbid you to do it, and sentence you to be as polite to each other as you would be to strangers."

Illness Delays Prize Fight

Miami, Fla., March 3 — (AP) — Illness has forced postponement of the Sugar Ray Robinson-Holly Sims non-title fight scheduled for Thursday in Miami stadium.
Robinson arrived last night and asked the postponement. He said he was ill.
Dr. James J. McCormick, Miami boxing board physician, said the middleweight champion had virus X and should go to bed for three to five days. No new date for the fight was set.

Hope Bounced Out of Meet by DeQueen

The DeQueen Leopards, favored from the start, knocked the Hope Bobcats out of the District 7W tournament last night with a 40 to 27 victory. Texarkana beat Nashville 44 to 44 and will meet the Leopards for the title tonight.
It was the same old story against DeQueen — too much Buddy Smith. The 6 foot five boy loomed in 20 points and was practically the whole show. He scored 25 points more than any other teammate.
The Bobcats tried desperately to stop Smith as they did in a previous game and four men fouled out trying to hold him down.
Hope's scoring was fairly well distributed with Beasley totaling 14 before being assigned to Smith and fouling out. Gilliams and Mitchell made five each, Bartentine 4 and Gunter 3.
In the "B" boys tournament in Prescott Laneburg defeated North Heights of Texarkana 48 to 42 for the district title.

NCAA Expects Trouble on Ban of TV

Chicago, March 3 — (AP) — The N. C. A. A. today had its grand up and a counter-punch cocked for violators of its football television ban. It also recommended tighter controls on control of basketball at second-placed Madison Square Garden.
In an important session yesterday, the NCAA's policy-making council:
1. Said its March 20-22-24 eastern regional cage meet will be held as scheduled at Madison Square Garden, only because of contractual commitments, but that the show would be off next year without "effective control, management and supervision" by the N. C. A. A.
2. Threatened to expel any member which deliberately telecasted football this fall beyond an approved realm of experimental controlled video.
Although cautiously wording a statement of policy to counteract the big fix scandal in New York, the council made it obvious that Madison Square Garden is out for the NCAA cage tourney after this year unless there is a "complete change" in ownership control.
K. L. Williams, NCAA secretary-treasurer, said this would mean wrestling with the NCAA policing and supervising authority which now rest mainly with the Garden.
The council recommended that members hold their athletic competition on their own campuses. If campus facilities are inadequate, non-campus arenas may be used if properly controlled by college sources.
Since the Chicago stadium Kansas City auditorium, San Francisco Cow Palace and other major scenes of collegiate basketball have college tie-ups, the directive presumably had Madison Square Garden as a locale for NCAA competition as its main target.
Even Madison Square Garden, during its regular double-header season, has had collegiate affiliation with local schools. But these included CCNY, Manhattan college, Long Island university and New York university, all having present or past players involved in the fix scandal.
The national invitational tournament scheduled at the Garden March 10-17 is beyond the jurisdiction of the NCAA which can dictate tourney sites only for its own championships.

Around the Arkansas Sports Loop

By CARL BELL

Little Rock, March 3 — (AP) — Basketball coach Presley Askew was thinking of next season as his Arkansas Razorbacks closed out their 1934 campaign.

That's why he started sophomores and juniors in the places of seniors against Rice here Thursday night.

But there was a question that action didn't answer: who'll fill the shoes of the graduating D. L. Miller, All-South conference guard from Van Buren, as the Razorbacks' playmaker?

No one on the present varsity is cut out for the job.

Van Buren again will supply the talent, says Askew.

The coach declared the assignment would go to eighth Floyd Sagle, a member of this winter's freshman team, or Johnson Gunn, fast, clever star of the Van Buren high school quintet.

Askew, of course, conditioned the statement about Gunn on whether (1) The lad chooses Arkansas for his higher education and (2) The southwest conference makes freshmen eligible for varsity play next season. He expects both of those "ifs" to come to pass.

Gunn will be shooting for his third straight All-State high school berth in the class A tournament at Jonesboro next week. But, good as he is, we wondered if he would be ready for southwest conference

Stamps Loses in State Junior Meet

Valley Springs, Marc 2 (AP) —

The two remaining semi-finalists in the Arkansas junior high school basketball tournament here were being decided in competition today.

Little Rock West Side met Oden and Ash Flat played St. Joe to decide which two teams will play in the second semi-final game tonight.

Van Buren and Jonesboro classified as contenders in the first semi-final with second-round victories last night. Van Buren beat McCrory, 23-19, and Jonesboro downed Stuttgart, 42-25.

Previously the first round had been wound up with these results: St. Jose 29, Monticello 23. Ash Flat 44, Stamps 43. Oden 31, Lencenville 29. West Side 63, Wynne 38.

competition his first year out of prep ranks.

"I don't know," Askew conceded. "But I'm just the guy who'll try him anyway."

Askew, of course, conditioned the this year's tall, strong front squad will add height and shooting ability to his already-slaying Porkers. However, he is worried about their defense — a department in which Arkansas ranks third in the nation.

"It takes experience to play good defensive basketball," he explained.

You might ask why, if the offense stack up satisfactorily, won't the 1932 Razorbacks simply try to outscore their foes. That just doesn't happen to be controlling Presley's style.

Eligibility Worries Top Cage Teams

New York, March 2 — (AP) — Kentucky and North Carolina State continue to knock over conference opponents in their respective post-season basketball tournaments but the Carolinians aren't doing so well off court.

Kentucky, No. 1 nationally in this week's Associated Press poll, walloped Mississippi State, 92-70, in its opening game of the South-eastern conference tournament. The Wolfpack, placed first in the standings during the regular season but must win the tournament to qualify for the NCAA.

The NCAA council meeting in Chicago yesterday put what might be a bad crimp in N. C. State chances in the National Invitation and NCAA tournaments.

The council said N. C. State can't use Sam Ranzino, Paul Horvath and Vic Bubbs, Wolfpack stars, if the team qualifies for the NCAA tournament. All are seniors who played on the varsity as freshmen and are not eligible because the NCAA allows only three years of varsity competition now.
